

COMPANY PROFILE

MAKING CONSTRUCTION AFFORDABLE AGAIN

Rhyno Henning preferred to follow in his grandfather's footsteps and put the building and construction knowledge that was passed to him to good use to start a construction company. Rhyno established Rhen Construction in 2014 and has since expanded the business to service residential and industrial clients with any building, refurbishment, alterations, and general maintenance needs.

Rhen Construction is based in Randfontein, West Rand, but is not area bound. We have completed projects throughout South Africa and have the capacity to travel for extensive periods to oversee and complete building projects.

Because construction work is our passion and not merely a job, we put effort into understanding our clients' needs to deliver tailor-made satisfaction every time. As a reputable construction business, we comply with the Occupational Health & Safety Act 85 of 1993 and take the safety of our staff and our clients very seriously. We supply all required PPE wear and industrial equipment needed for each project and place skilled supervisors onsite to maintain high standards.

"No project is ever too big or too small for us. We all get our hands dirty to achieve our clients' goals."

- Rhyno Henning

As specialist areas, Rhen Construction focuses on Construction, Maintenance and Installations, and Turnkey projects. We believe in forging and maintaining strong relations with specialists in our industry to continuously build a pool of trusted and skilled sub-contractors for when the need arises. Similarly, we make ourselves available as sub-contractor to work with other reputable main contractors on their building projects.
